REMARKS

The Second Supplemental Amendment is being submitted to correct the status of claims 1-156, which were inadvertently omitted from the previously filed Supplemental Amendment.

It is desired to thank the Examiner for the courtesy of a telephone interview extended to Albert Jacobs, Jr. on behalf of applicants on November 9, 2007. Canceled claim 157 was discussed and based on that discussion the instant Supplemental Amendment is submitted. Claim 157 has been canceled and rewritten as claim 191. It is applicants' desire to insure that new claim 191 clearly sets forth in systems language the automated system of applicants' invention. It is hoped that the Examiner will find the revised language to be clear and definite. Some minor amendments have been made in the dependent claims and the dependencies where appropriate were corrected. In addition, in keeping with applicants' intention to insure that proper system language was used in the claims, claim 186 was revised and split into two claims, one of which remains as amended claim 186 and the second of which is new claim 192.

It is believed that the Examiner should now find the instant application in condition for allowance and such action is respectfully requested at this time.
